Authentic Joy – a Context of Synthesis

This is a living document. These are not rules. They are agreements. Break them with awareness. Return to them with responsibility. Use them to grow. The folder uses terminology from Esotericism, Possibility management and Ecovillages. To keep it brief these terms are not explained in here.

A context is a conscious agreement between two or more people governing their interactions, communication and co-creation. This folder defines such a context and for the sake of clarity distinguishes between the context “AUTHENTIC JOY” and the feeling “authentic joy”.

The experience of authentic joy is a feeling that comes from connecting to our inner aliveness. The context of AUTHENTIC JOY is a conscious agreement to use the distinctions of the context to navigate our inner worlds, take full responsibility for our life, and create what truly matters to us.

The journey to AUTHENTIC JOY

The context of AUTHENTIC JOY is born out of a vision to create a hub of transformation that gets to the root of the challenges facing humanity. In the process of creating this context, there have been three main traditions that it was essential to integrate, and three spiritual practices that have emerged from this integration. The key practices of AUTHENTIC JOY are:

1. Radical Responsibility (Will). This principle of individual responsibility and accountability is central for the Possibility Management gameworld and indispensable in overcoming the massive influence of our collective underworld.
2. World Service (Love). This principle is central in the esoteric community, and when correctly understood and applied, it offers the safest and most effective path of spiritual evolution.
3. Creating Beauty (Creative Intelligence). Beauty is the essence of the divine feminine and works powerfully through nature and art. Nature-oriented communities such as Ecovillages, as well as many artists, are therefore aligned with this power and practice.

What is Synthesis?

Synthesis is bringing distinct and often opposing elements into harmonious relation to each other in order to birth a higher order of creation – a new level of competence. Well known examples of synthesis are:

- When a man and a woman unite to create a child.
- When a child learns to walk by coordinating hundreds of muscles.
- When an individual is able to integrate and harmonize its many distinct part-personalities.

In every case there are opposing forces at play, and needs and interests that go in different directions. The challenge of synthesis is to identify and cultivate the higher principle that can subordinate the different forces in a harmonious way, while respecting the distinct nature and independent lifeforce present in each of the parts, that make up the whole.

A Village of Amazing Possibilities

The AUTHENTIC JOY context is a combination of practices from Radical Responsibility, Esotericism and Group Synthesis in Community.

The key principles of AUTHENTIC JOY are:

- Create what you love to do.
- Be responsible for your own needs.
- Be respectful of people, time, money and other resources.

The bright principles of the context is: Love, Clarity and Healing.

How to hold a Joyful and Responsible Context

- What is in your awareness is your responsibility. If something is not working, bring it up with the team and agree about a new behavior or approach around the topic you noticed.
- Each person is responsible for any feeling, emotion or blockage they experience in order to live in the context.
- Anyone harboring a resentment towards another member of a team is responsible to share it and/or clear it as soon as possible.
- We bring everything into the space so it can fall in place (feelings, emotions, underworld/gremlin impulses).
- Clearly communicate what you want. If you want a specific space (listening space, possibilities, EHP, holdings etc.) ask for it.
- We create spaces for storytelling, art and mythodrama as a source of high-level fun and playful learning.
- We take responsibility for our thoughts, words and actions in order to create a beautiful and respectful environment.
- We make decisions with Torus Technology (resistance decision making). If you have resistance, you make another proposal or you join the respective node and become part of the solution.
- We create a low radiation environment (wifi/mobile) by configuring our devices so they only radiate when in actual use.

Key distinctions of Authentic Joy

A context is defined by the distinction that exists within it. Some key distinctions in this context are:

Gaia is a living being on a journey of cosmic evolution and each soul on the planet is similarly on a journey of spiritual growth and initiation. Living together in a community of practice where the individuals share a common higher purpose can open the door to group synthesis. The context of Authentic Joy is an experiment in group synthesis

Through invocation and creating heart resonance with the worlds of light a divine collaboration with the bright principles behind the work is facilitated. The bright principles of the context are Love, Clarity and Healing.

Authentic joy (as a feeling) comes from working in responsible high vibration teams, creating what you love while being aligned with your soul purpose. This is distinct from the superficial (gremlin) joy which comes from owning stuff, controlling people, having prestige, dominating, avoiding responsibility and exploiting people or planet with little regards for the consequences.

As a consequence of being separated from the divine, an agent of separation exists inside each of us called “the dweller on the threshold”. This part of our being guards the gates to the divine and prevents us from entering into our true spiritual potential until we have taken full responsibility for our shadow behaviors. What you do not own, owns you. An aspect of this dweller is our “gremlin”, which is the lord of our underworld. By creating a conscious relation to this part of our inner world the door to authentic adulthood opens.

To enter into a genuine adult state of being, and take responsibility for one’s life and mission, a person must go through authentic adulthood initiations that brings their unconscious survival strategies into consciousness and decontaminate their personality. Human beings are designed to be initiated as adults and take responsibility for their lives when they become 18 years old. However, schools of initiation have historically been destroyed by the Patriarchy and they need to be rebuilt.

To reclaim our spiritual power and heritage we learn to navigate the four feelings (anger, sadness, fear and joy), distinguish between feelings and emotions (present vs. past), learn to unmix mixed feelings (depression, anxiety etc.), recognize when gremlin (underworld) is at work, recognize our bright principles as well as our hidden shadow purpose, learn to navigate the three worlds (underworld, upper world and middle world), learn to use the magic tools at our disposal, create five body intimacy journeys and many other cool things.

When the One Spirit, which is the source of the universe, choses to manifest itself, the Oneness of Being fragments into seven fundamental rays of consciousness. We call them the seven rays.

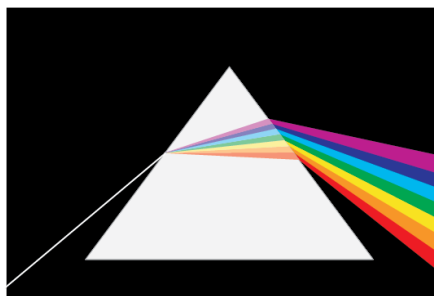

They are the rays of:

- 1. Will & Power,
- 2. Love-Wisdom,
- 3. Active Intelligence,
- 4. Harmony through Conflict,
- 5. Concrete Knowledge,
- 6. Devotion & idealism, and
- 7. Ceremonial Order and Magic.

The seven rays are part of the inner structure of the universe. Our personality as well as each of our five bodies (physical, emotional, mental, energetic and archetypal) is governed by one of the seven rays.

The type of ray ruling a particular body defines the basic energy with which this part of our being functions. In our personal combination of rays (in a particular incarnation) lies a key to understanding our unique challenge.

When an individual is oriented towards the source of life, letting the deeper purpose of the soul express itself through the vehicles, individual synthesis and initiation can happen. When a group works consciously together, oriented towards a recognized higher purpose, under one or all of the rays, group synthesis (and initiation) can happen.

Figure 1: The process of fragmentation in a ray of light that hits a prism is similar to the fragmentation that spirit undergoes when incarnating in form.

In relation to initiatory processes the context distinguishes between:

- Authentic adulthood initiations that consist of thoughtware upgrades (upgrading the ideas you use to think with), and
- Soul initiations that take place on the soul level when a new level of attainment has been reached.

The first soul initiation happens when the certainty of divine reality awakens in the heart. The second soul initiation marks the point where the emotional body is fully illuminated. The third soul initiation happens when the mental body is fully illuminated and a true understanding of cosmic consciousness is attained. The fourth soul initiations happens when the ego becomes transparent to God.

Part of the reason why humanity is struggling with so many difficult themes at this time is that humanity as a whole is currently going through the first soul initiation (as a group). This awakening process brings awareness to the terrible destructiveness of the patriarchal structures we live under and begs the question: what will replace the Patriarchy?

The answer is Archiarchy, which is a name for the regenerative human culture naturally emerging around the world now that Matriarchy and Patriarchy have run their course. Archiarchy comes to life when archetypally initiated adult women creatively collaborate with archetypally initiated adult men.

The Four Archetypal lineages

Bringing balance and synthesis to the world require us to work with forces and perspectives that are very different and sometimes even conflicting – at least on the surface. The key to synthesis is to find the higher principle that can bring alignment to the various parts.

To create balance and wholeness we therefore work with four archetypal lineages (Gameworld Builders, Earth Guardians, Village Weavers & Evolutionaries). They are distinct from, but have a correspondence to, the Jungian archetypes (King, Warrior, Lover, Magician).

In the world around us these four lineages manifest as:

- Village Weavers (Lover energy): Community builders, networkers, eco-villagers and relationship-builders of all kinds.
- Evolutionaries (Magician energy): Healers, shamans, coaches, lightworkers, mages, researchers and everyone working with the transformation of consciousness.
- Gaia Guardians (Warrior energy): Activists, environmentalists, idealistic politicians, writers, philosophers and everyone fighting to protect Gaia.
- Gameworld Builders (King/Queen energy): Visionaries, possibilitators, cultural engineers, social architects, innovators and everyone building workable solutions for a regenerative future.

The contribution from each lineage is vital for the health of the whole. In the larger cultural context, we hold space for creating an alliance between the cultural manifestations of these four lineages as a way to create Group Synthesis and cavitate a new reality.

The Golden Context and the Ring of Life

This context draws upon, and tries to integrate, the following traditions:

- Possibility Management (PM).
- Ecovillages and intentional communities.
- Esoteric traditions and heart centered mysticism, mainly rooted in Alice Bailey, Asger Lorentsen, Martinus and Esoteric Christianity.

Each of these traditions have vital contributions to the context, and each of them have some built in challenges that get in the way of the purpose of THIS context which is Group Synthesis and Cultural Transformation.

|                     | Strengths                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Challenges                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Possibility Mgmt.   | Clear, focused and direct and deals effectively with emotional reactivity and the complex ways in which parent/child/gremlin influences contaminates the adult ego-state and thus undermine our spiritual efforts. Very alive because the gameworld is actively and rapidly evolving. | Can feel demanding and harsh, making it difficult to land in heart-based contexts and communities. Requires many new distinctions to meaningfully participate in context. Lack distinctions in relation to higher (cosmic) evolutions. Worldstory and context are not clearly separated.                             |
| Ecovillages         | A very inclusive and open gameworld that addresses the human needs for belonging and living together, providing a model for a modern semi-tribal lifestyle built around a shared meaning. It is popular and has the potential to be widely adopted as a new way of living.            | The inclusivity and emphasis on ecology, permaculture and the social life means that a deeper spiritual quest and focus is often drowned out by a material/concrete focus unless the spiritual practice is firmly embedded to begin with (which is the exception).                                                   |
| Esoteric traditions | Deep insight into cosmic evolution and soul challenges. A rich set of tools for transformational work that does not only work on an individual level but also in the collective consciousness. Dedicated service and meditative practice refine and elevates consciousness.           | Tendency for groups to close themselves around a set of beliefs and lose sight of practical applications. Often oriented towards teachers from the past instead of conducting live research in the present. Tendency to focus on the higher chakras and leave issues of underworld, sex, money and power unresolved. |

The purpose of this context is to integrate these three vital traditions of being into a whole that can birth new institutions that can aid in healing society and birth another way of life, anchored in a much higher vibration.

An important aspect of this transformational process pertains to the symbol of the “Ring of Life” and the Grail legends - to which this symbol rightly belongs. The mystery of the Ring of Life is further described in a separate folder.

The mystery of the Grail has to do with the unique spiritual challenge embedded in Western Civilization. Whereas Eastern spirituality (inspired by the Buddha) essentially is about dissolving desires and withdrawing engagement from the world (seeking God transcendent), the Western path (inspired by the Christ) is the opposite (seeking God Immanent).

The Western path has to do with bringing divine life into manifestation and this is, in many ways, a more challenging path than simply withdrawing one’s engagement from the world and seeking liberation from physical incarnation. The Western disciple must learn to be present in the world, with all the pains, desires and challenges that come with a physical life, and still remain connected to the source, expressing divine love and awareness in action. The challenge involved in this path is described in the Grail literature, notably the story of Parzival, which is a cornerstone of esoteric Christianity.

Crucifixion, resurrection and ascension are central symbols on the Western path and the fruit of this path is a quality of golden love and compassion that penetrates even the deepest shadows. Because of this we also call this the Golden Context. A key competence is thus the ability to function as a transmitter of this golden heart-vibration from the higher worlds while at the same time being an active and engaged participant in worldly affairs.

In the integration of the three traditions, the distinctions of PM help ground and anchor the work, the living community creates an embodiment of the divine energy, and the esoteric dimension connects the work to the deepest mysteries, birthing a clearer sense of the sacred, thus completing the bridge of love and light from the heart of God to the heart of Man (or the heart of our civilization).

Archiarchy and the Ring of Life

Archiarchy is a name for the regenerative human culture naturally emerging around the world now that Matriarchy and Patriarchy have run their course.

The name “Archiarchy” comes from the context of Radical Responsibility and there is an important symbolic link between the “Ring of Life” and “Archiarchy” that is worth mentioning here.

The Shared Symbolism...

The symbol of the Ring of Life is a double ouroboros (a snake eating its own tail) coiled around a ring. If one opens it up and spreads out the ouroboros, so it becomes two-dimensional, it becomes clear that the symbol of the Ring of Life, and the symbol of Archiarchy (to the right: a circle with the infinity sign inside) is actually one and the same.
