
Free Clearing Transcript

Hi there, we use a program called Cockatoo to convert our call into a transcription & summary. We trust that this makes connecting with the content of your session more accessible at a glance.

However, sometimes this program struggles to give a fully accurate representation of all that happens during a session. This can often come up as mistranslations. Thanks for your understanding :)

0:00:05
All right there, everybody. Welcome to today's space and container. And wherever you are at in life right now, the deepest intention of this space that we hold is to meet you exactly where you are at with exactly what you need in this time, space and moment. And it's to meet you both here on this embodied level, but also to recognize that the creative shifts, the inspired sparks, They come from within yourself. There's an important statement that we use all the time, because this is our foundation, just as it is the foundation of every embodied soul. I am God.
0:01:15
I am sovereign. I am free. And we invite those words into this space now to lay the foundational level, blueprint and template for all the intentions of this time space together. And as that frequency builds, we invite each and every person to connect with that revelation, knowing and statement, which is the innermost truth of the soul. I am God. I am sovereign.
0:02:05
I am free. I am the authentic self. I came here to be, to express, and to experience. I choose joy. I choose freedom. I choose to begin.
0:02:40
I am the cosmic sovereign law made manifest. On this end we've already opened up the field, the container. We always wish to acknowledge Holy Mother, Holy Father, holy child, divinity, the unifying principles of the masculine and feminine, as we call in to the highest Christic selves of each and every individual present to be present and support in every clearing, release, intention, and foundational wish for everybody who says yes to themselves, to sovereignty, freedom, liberty, for the removal of non -serving templates, for the clearing of old patterns, stories, and entrapments, for the reclaiming, the remembrance, and the wholehearted embrace of the fullness that is you. Thanking the support of all the angelics aligned to God, sovereign and free, all beings aligned to God, sovereign and free, as we call this space, into one unity built on the frequencies of liberation. And as you are in your own space, being present with your body, yourself, noting the sensations, the presence, discomforts, all in acceptance and observation.

0:05:15

There are many ways that one could approach sort of an intention like this. There's beautiful power in simplicity. And the image that comes up as I state that is foundations or a foundation slab. And each person has their own foundation slab, the accumulation of experiences, their inner talk, scars from this lifetime, across all lifetimes, and setting up for the duration of this transmission that for all discordant frequencies, all heavy frequencies, all interfering frequencies, the equal opposites will come into play and run up the levels of the field, and the Christed frequencies will follow immediately after that, filling that space with expansion, presence, and unconditional love. And I encourage you here and now to tune into your foundations, what they look like, feel like, to you.
0:06:39
Everyone's is completely unique. There is no right or wrong, there just is. And the recognition in this moment is that there is a perfect foundation available, because it exists in the now, in the field of infinite potential. As we hold this image, there's a lot of clouding, black cloud, brown, electrostatic images that could also represent non -physical life forms, such as entities, as well as physical parasites, things that alter one's biochemistry. keep one stuck in loops, and in the most appropriate way tailored to each individual according to their unique circumstances wherever they are at now, running the purity keys throughout this intention to clear out the clouds, miasmas, the scarring.
0:07:49
Quarantine and remove non -physical beings such as entities, parasites, energetic and physical, and to send those out for rehabilitation. Rebuilding the first, second and third triad. These are dimensional harmonics within the body that relate to, say, your incarnate identity, the soul identity, the monadic matrix. series of binds or chains that are present over there, and the equal opposites through that, and calling in solid foundations. As I make that statement, there's an image of a very strong, vibrant, sort of purple light, as well as a very strong, vibrant platinum and gold light that become present, streaming down. And some of these are intercepted by what look like mirrors or large plates of glass, metal, and cloth.
0:09:03
We have to view things sort of vertically in a linear sense. These are dimensional bands or frequency fences between an individual's knowing, claiming and receiving, truly receiving, granting oneself permission to receive and align. And through these dimensional harmonics, these interferences now running the equal opposites through all present, cancelling them out, running the Christed frequencies through them. and then running the stability codes and humbly requesting in the most appropriate way as directed by your highest Christic self, rebuilding your field of personal integrity, love, knowing, and clearing out the insertions that are presenting themselves made up of all sorts of different structures and substances. But if I tune into and ask, what does this insertion mean? One is the frequency of denial.

0:10:23
The other is projection. The other is splitting, rationalization. These are false foundations and every structure that is built upon any of those frequencies, denial, splitting, projection, rationalization, or anything else unnamed for that matter, they carry within them fragility. And there's an image that comes up that represents the fragility streaming through the highest Christic selves, the antidote to brittleness, fragility, and the wound that anchors each of these in place. Childhood trauma, adult trauma, betrayal, loss of love, lack of love, misunderstanding as a whole. book that's appeared here.
0:11:38
And everybody carries various forms of these in ways that have different meaning to them. And here within this moment, there's an invitation to release the meaning and to be present with the now and your true self, which is purity, detached from the story, the experience and the pain into the full claiming of the now, the presence and the wisdom that you hold. taking a complete codex of all woundings shown within this book, named and upnamed, calling forth the equal opposites, merging and running through the levels of the field, and running the Christed frequencies immediately thereafter, and deepening the connection from the highest Christic self to your deepest, innermost core, your true soul identity, made manifest in the flesh, in the physical, here and now. And as these foundations stabilize and strengthen, there's an image that comes up that we could call masking, or reflection, or sidestepping, different strategies that individuals can embody in different situations. But it is to do with, say, a forced identity, an identity that is not the authentic expression. It is a borrowed foundation.
0:13:22
And if I view this foundation slab filled with different, say, blocks inside of it, some of these blocks are inorganic. What I mean by inorganic is that they are not your true frequency, your expression. They are artificial. They are borrowed and inserted. It's an imposed identity.
0:13:50

I invite you, in your own way and space, to tune into your innermost self and feel how many there are. It might be three. It could be 300. Everyone will have their own number, and that's perfectly fine. When it's named, the structure immediately begins to collapse. When it's seen and felt and acknowledged, it immediately begins to dissolve.
0:14:18
And the beautiful thing with healing and the soul is that it immediately begins to restore itself. Patterns once named dissolve. And it's running an acceleration through this integration here and now to strengthen, stabilize, secure, and make sovereign every individual's foundation that says, yes, in the most appropriate way to their unique life situation, circumstances, environments, networks, spheres of influence, and claiming the fullness of their organic template, the fullness of who they are. There's a lot of energy that presents itself which represents activations or alignment, rebuilding, realigning, is actually perhaps a better word than rebuilding, because it already is there. It's in the choosing and the claiming to embody that fully.
0:15:45
And as this is occurring, there are two paths that appear before me. Both are important, either more important than the other, but they relate to specific frequencies that are present. And on the left -hand path, which is the one that immediately captures my greatest attention, is an image that represents karmic manipulation. Karmic manipulation is an artificial structure that offloads karma into individuals. We each carry our own story, but there are structures out there, sorceric, psychic, intentional, that are intended to offload into our field. This is anti -Christic, it is anti -law, and here, in the most appropriate way, there are 77 black spheres that appear.
0:16:47
as we move into this, running this straight through Holy Mother, Holy Father, in the most appropriate way. The removal of all karmic manipulation programs inserted into the chakra bodies, the spaces between the chakras, the nodule complexes, the central nervous system, and anywhere else unstated but held in the karmic manipulation programs calling forth for the extraction of the sorceric, psychic, and intentional bindings throughout all timelines, levels, dimensions, lineages, lines, densities, and anywhere else in play to be resolved in the most appropriate way for each individual's joy path, health path, vitality, financial, authentic soul expression, and wherever it is Whatever it is that is inspiring them and calling them forward in their day -to -day life and those 77 structures Dissolving to me. It looks like turning to sand Blowing away and setting up the intention that for the duration of this time and as long as seen fit by Holy Mother Holy Father the divine masculine feminine principles for this intention to keep running until all levels layers and influences of karmic manipulation programs are resolved allowing individuals to move truly sovereign and on their own life path to that which is calling them forward and speaking to them in the now. And so as this continues to run, my attention then is drawn to the path on the right. And within the path on the right is a very specific frequency that sits

0:19:15
And this is to do with density. Each and every individual is fully capable because within their innermost core, they fully are Christic, aligned, sovereign, and free. And there are energies and influences that create blocks in the full embodying of this energy. And at the end of this right hand path is an image or a template that looks like death. On the consciousness scales of frequency, say full consciousness is right up the top and you drop down to the lower frequencies, grief, apathy, guilt, shame and death sits at the very bottom. But more specifically all the fear, the uncertainty, both through personal life as well as through ancestral lives or the ancestral templates, past lives.
0:20:33
As we state that word, there is an image of a star that appears that holds 13 points and each point represents an anchor. The anchor is a frequency, a memory, an expression, a trauma. It is a frequency fence. It is a seal on consciousness. It's a dead weight. It's linked into cultural templates.
0:21:10
media templates, entertainment templates, narratives, all built around the frequency, the stigma, the persona, the journey that relates to death in all of its shapes and forms, calling on the equal opposites for the 13 -pointed star, everything that it represents within the organic stream of the soul, and running a full Christic flush throughout all levels, of this energy, past, present, future, simultaneously. And as the dismantling of this frequency fence or seal barrier is occurring, there is an invitation for the return of soul fragmentation. Specific events in life, this life, past life, can result in fracturing of the spirit. Extreme pain is one example. I encourage each and every person to tune into their awareness of how many fractures, how many energies are up for integration. Integration means the return of that which was lost or locked away due to pain, trauma, grief, and so on.
0:23:02

This creates dead light. density. It is a resonator, an attractor field for negativity, for hijacks, for insertions, for frustration. And tune into the number. If a number feels right to you, you can tune into a frequency. The frequency feels right to you.
0:23:26
Every individual has their own guidance system. And here and now within this collective, running a full support for the integration of all soul fragments, particularly related to the frequency, the template and the expression of death in all of its ways, shapes and forms, made possible here and now, cleansed and bathed in the cosmic Christ light for the claiming of wisdom, the integration of the self, the healing of the shadow and the alignment to the highest truth of the soul. And for yourselves, you may feel them, see them, sense them, hear them returning to you, believe in simplicity and a simple instruction such as, come home, you are welcome. I love you, thank you, is all that is really required to bring depth and wholeness to a place that has been held in discord. Come home, be one, here and now. And as this 13 -pointed star architecture continues to dissolve fully, the full reclamation of soul fragmentation continues to run, running aflush through the frequencies of shame, moving higher up the scale.
0:25:21
As I state, shame, like seeing a picture book that opens up with experiences inside there that you could say hold humiliation or misery, misunderstanding. These are frozen moments in life in which the nervous system contracted and has never been able to release the charge, where the mental body attached itself to, where pieces of the self are still living back in moments long since past. And here and now, within this moment, there is the invitation to release and return to the fullness and the wholeness that is you. Removing all cords, cables, siphons, attachments, anchors, plugs, seals and all other unnamed architectures present, seen and unseen, related to the frequencies of shame, humiliation, and misery, calling in the equal opposites, merging together and running through the levels of the field, as well as the Christed frequencies. There may be memories, there may be moments that come up organically for you.
0:26:59
Meet them with neutrality and observation, gratitude that they are no longer the defining energy, a foundational energy of your template. The moment this is cleared, new potentials open, new lifeline choices become reality. As this continues to run, there's an image that looks a little bit like a ball and chain, except it's two balls connected by one chain. And they represent the frequencies of apathy, And guilt and grief is in the other. Apathy is inaction. It is a hopelessness.

0:27:57
It is a field of energy that is sticky, clouding, like quicksand, prevents traction. One can be inspired and know what they need to do and find that the field around them collapses as they try to move into that. This here is connected to this architecture of the two metal balls connected by the chain. which is also linked into an ancestral template of regret, running the spirit freedom keys, the liberty keys. and the frequencies of transmutation to bring forth release from all that is hopeless, unspoken, unknown, unseen, and all frequencies that relate to apathy and the entrapment of that energy field. As we state, the entrapment of that energy field, there is a ring that appears around the solar plexus.
0:29:26
There is a ring that appears in the space between the fourth and fifth dimensional harmonics. or the fourth chakra, fifth chakra. It looks like a large metal braiding. I'm running a clearing through that now. It leads off to a larger sort of structure. But as this is cleared and these implants are removed, going into the core wounding, the core resonator, and the core pain that has allowed the insertions, the entrapment, the frequencies of disappointment, frustration, despair, and all other low -scale frequencies in front of everybody, there is an image of the shadow that is the self, the unacknowledged places that speak its own language.
0:30:45
and is often misunderstood or misinterpreted. And here within this space, there is a symbol that for me has come to represent closure. The closing of loops, the closing of personal patterns, the closing of cycles that are non -supportive. Seeing something like this means we're working within the deep subconscious templates and the instinctual templates. And here and now, in this moment, there is the invitation to welcome this aspect of yourself fully into the light, into your heart space, into your joy, your expression, your vision, and the wisdom that it holds, the inspiration that it holds, the release of a journey that has taken you to this point, and the discovery of new life paths that are built on the foundational frequencies of flow, expansion, synchronicity, and in the most appropriate way running support for each individual according to wherever they are at right now in the harmonizing, healing. holding, reintegrating of this shadow, this shadow version of the self, unseen, unacknowledged, unheard.
0:32:59

The one that means when you say, we go forward, it says left, take a step forward, it goes back. And there's humor in that as well. Through Holy Mother, Holy Father, principles of the divine, masculine, feminine, in full, harmonious unity and rising, recognizing that that is within your inspired self, the claiming of yourself, unity and wholeness. and running the unity codes through the first harmonic layer, the second, the third, fourth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, as we're running. this through the ninth, welcoming in the frequencies of your own organic self, inner wisdom, inner love, inner light and reason. These are the frequencies or the templates of new humanity consciousness.

0:34:57

These are the frequencies and templates that cut through the noise that the world is being saturated in. Inner love, inner wisdom, inner light and reason is the beacon, the broadcast, the effortless frequency of coherence that inspires through presence, authenticity, expression, motivation, and allowing these frequencies to stabilize. It's quite a beautiful image for myself as we were working on foundations, seeing multicolored lights of very bright, vivid colors, and the entire spectrum laying themselves into the foundational template that you were cultivating, seeing flecks of gold and color and glows becoming very vivid, as it is that holding of the inner love, inner wisdom, and the inner light and reason. This brings forth the frequency of reverence. And as I state, reverence is a beautiful image that appears on wide, expansive landscapes, beautiful mountaintops, overlooking oceans, and souls, or yourself in many lives, standing in moments of absolute appreciation for the beauty that is, the expression you are, the life that you live, moments in this life, What's so beautiful about this is that so often with past life work and soul integrations, there's a lot of negative. This is beauty and the invitation to bring all that beauty that you've experienced as a soul, however many journeys you've traveled, however many moments you've had within your embodied life here, into coherence.

0:37:48

Light beams coming together to create something unified, radiant, not dispersed, a living pillar of light, a new default, expression, and in the most appropriate way, through the support, Holy Mother, Holy Father, the intelligence of your inner soul, your inner Christic self. your divine spark, your unique template and architecture, your knowing, bringing unity to the frequencies of reverence, meaning, harmony, perfection, and requesting the establishment of a new benchmark default set point within each and every soul template that says yes, that claims that as their space to allow this rising current to continue to thrive, expand, stabilize, and build. continue to run these energies through all other harmonic layers. In taking this newly established frequency within the self and the soul stream and running that through the harmonic templates or the triads of your energy body, your consciousness, there's something that appears within each and everybody's personal field. And it looks like a combination lock, it's like a puzzle. These are pieces you've been trying to solve. And here, the intention is very simple. Intend that it unlocks from a new frequency, from a new place, from a new request. The intention is simple, open. And as that is resolved, running the unity codes and harmonization to be heart -led, unified on all levels, weaving this through the central nervous system and grounding the central nervous system, allowing the release, relaxation, discharge, reorientation of all held, bound, stored, trauma, charge, memory, expression, denial, and through the central nervous system, requesting a full Christic upgrade, streamed through your highest self, made available here and now, in alignment to the laws of God, sovereign and free, across all timelines, levels, dimensions, lineages, lines, realities and densities. and flushing this all the way through, flushing out all split attack and all insertions linked into the false ascension matrix, all comfort implants, all contradictory polarities, creating fragmentation, hesitancy, uncertainty, addiction to cycles, justification, stubbornness, unwillingness to claim that which is available, and running a Christic antidote through all of these frequencies, harmonizing, healing, and making whole.

0:40:20
0:43:42
As this continues to run, and with this new template of unified reverence expansion, there's a structure that looks like a cube, different colored ones. I'm asking what this is about. It's to do with holographic overlays in life. We can have a true organic soul path, we can have organic time, and then there can be overlays. And these embed weight, struggle, joylessness, and ultimately it is a intention to suppress joy. Joy is a beautiful frequency.
0:44:41
It just unlocks doors. And here and now, throughout all templates that relate to false reality constructs, hooks, claws, insertions, AI or artificial architectures and templates, false guidance, false guides, insertions and overlays. Clearing this all now with the 12D shields and requesting the full activation of the 12D shields within each and every individual's God Spark purpose and alignment. 12D shields are a statement of intention for your organic radiance, your organic protection, your organic unique frequency, your own inner alignment, your unique expression of sovereignty. Coming fully online. Releasing here and now.

0:46:02
Wait that you've carried for too long. burdens that have been carried for too long, responsibility and over -responsibility that have been carried for too long, wounds, trauma and struggles, releasing those now, frustrations and non -serving relationships, releasing those now, belief systems, teachings, conditioning and programming, releasing those now, releasing anything else unnamed, unstated, unknown, but felt within the physical body, nervous system, emotional body, the soul, and requesting in the most appropriate way, through your highest Christic self, through your innate knowing, free from all insertion, distortion, hijack, in any way, shape or form, the release the reclaiming of your sovereign path, your sovereign blueprint, your sovereign soul, running flush throughout the cellular field, throughout cellular memory, and in the most appropriate way, clearing for the removal of all baseline stress indicators shown on the master control cell for each and every individual, clearing out all ancestral survival programs that are non -serving, creating cellular background noise, throughout all stored memory conditioning that has encouraged or conditioned the authentic self to shrink, for the clearing of all cellular weight that has been carried as a result of stress, trauma, protection that has been carried for too long, for all accumulated energies non -serving, clearing it through all presenting layers, all harmonics, and through the unifying principles of the divine masculine and feminine, reclaiming the body as safe and trusted, in which your highest expression is fully invited to inhabit. claiming this frequency of God's sovereign and free through the cellular level and making this available to the emotional static and the instinctual body, clearing out all residual programs of suffering linked into the body's pain centers and all unaddressed conditioning programming from family, culture, and circumstance, highlighting the frequencies of triangulation and collapsing those, and in that space requesting unconditional love, awareness, full consciousness, truth, and expression. Running this flush and clearing through the mental body, the solar plexus and personal identities, clear mental fog, programming, conditioning, and automatic response. Quite usual, automatic response to be quite or deeply programmed into the mental plane.
0:51:19
This is an invitation to accept spaciousness, the space between input and action, which invites the frequency of choice. And through choice, one claims the lifeline, the reality, the expression, that inspires, calls, and motivates. and welcoming in the highest expression of choice to each individual as a genuine expression of their soul, and removing all overlays on the mental and the heart plane that are inauthentic goals, desires, and insertions, preventing the deepest expression of their self to shine forward, and calling forth the self that knows who it is without needing permission, removing cords, cables, and artificial attachments around the navel, the nodule expressions, the heart, high heart, thymus, pituitary, pineal, pericardium, perineum, running the liberty codes, God, sovereign, and free throughout all of these spaces. throughout all levels of the harmonic layers, establishing this new foundation as the established set point, welcoming in new humanity consciousness, inner love, inner wisdom, inner light and reason, meaning, understanding, reverence, full, whole, embodied, welcoming, self -love throughout all levels, all timelines, all dimensions, realities, lineages, lines, expressions of your consciousness, past, present and future. and establishing this within the here and the now, claiming this within the here and the now, knowing this within the here and the now, living this within the here and the now. This is the moment.

0:55:40

the expression, the claiming, the welcoming, the knowing, and the living from. And in this moment, here and now, with this complete flush rung, freezing out all unaddressed entities, parasitic leeches, astral insertions, hijacks, deviations, negative thought forms, and any interfering energy that is up for clearing, in this moment, because a sovereign soul has chosen to claim yes and now. and supporting in that intention of flushing this out, stabilizing this intention as the new energetic set point of your default frequency, and welcoming in the lifeline that brings you inspiration, joy, liberty, freedom, vitality, and whatever it is that inspires your inner heart and innermost being to celebrate life. And as you continue to remain in this space, we ask that this transmission intention continues to run as long as is seen necessary by mother father god the ascending life path of each and every person in the most appropriate way for them here and now and moving forward thank you for being in this space we wish you all the very best on the integrations on the week that unfolds for you it has been a beautiful honor to hold this space and we wish you very very well in life goodbye goodbye