Resonance Model

Mystics Society
Purpose. Passion. Prosperity.

Resonance or ACAR

Our resonance is the energetic or vibration we are putting out. It is the frequency at which we create - it therefore affects the frequency of what we attract. The process described here helps walk you through the key attributes that affect your resonance and helps you identify where you can refine your practice, presence or message to be in better alignment with your intentions and divine path.

ACAR is actually a formula

Basically, the idea is that how well you know yourself, how you project yourself and show up in the world, and how you align to your intention or audience directly impacts how you are received by the world.

What is “Resonance?” (aka ACAR Model)

Resonance is the energy of exchange - ROE

A+C+A = R

A = Authenticity —— —-> True to You

C = Congruent —— —-> True in front of them

A = Aligned —— —-> Knowing your context and audience

R = Resonance —— —-> What you attract is what you put out

Resonance drives what you receive BACK….

Don't forget, it's an iterative process.

Each layer and trip round the equation will bring new levels of self-awareness and congruency.

Here's to your Resonance!

Guiding Questions for ACAR

Focus on the first "A" Authenticity

AUTHENTICITY

What parts of "you" are the easiest to express and how are you bringing them forward in your business?

What parts of "you" are the hardest for you to express?

What are you afraid of?

CONGRUENCE

Focus on the first "C" Congruence

Once you have listed out the above "parts of you" that are not being fully expressed in your offerings, website or services - ask yourself...

Where am I holding back?

Why am I not showing up fully in this light? (usually there is hidden or not so hidden "fear" of _____ there)

How could I bring my "full" self forward in new (and bold and courageous!) ways? Look for ways that feel bold but fun, that stretch you but don't create unnecessary resistance in you.

Focus on the second "A" Alignment

Who am I really talking "to" right now in my business (audience, clients or future clients)?

Am I feeling fully aligned with those audiences? (i.e. they are 'picking up what you are putting down" and there is a flow of energy - either engagement, compensation or compliments)

How could I better align to them? Ask yourself, could I tweak my language? Could I show up in different places?

How can I better meet them where they are with my message? (In this case: them + authentic me = alignment)

Guiding Questions for ACAR

Focus on the "R" = Resonance

And the litmus of all of this evaluation and inquiry is your "Resonance." When your Resonance is working you will notice thriving exchanges of energy. In business these come in the form of payments, or growth, or engagement. The experience is of the Universe giving back to you in accordance (or in excess! ;-) with the energy you are putting out. To gauge your Resonance ask yourself:

Where are you investing the most energy in your life, career, or business?

Are you seeing a ROE "Return On Energy" for that investment? (If not, revisit the A+C+A and challenge yourself to look deeper at "why" that is happening and where the disconnect can be addressed)

Are there areas of your life where you ARE seeing a lot of returns, (in the form of interest, recognition, reward, requests, revenue, bonuses, etc) and if so - how can you direct more energy to leveraging that flow and growing it's impact?

Note: Not all facets of our inner workings have to be represented in our businesses - but be aware that the often the piece that feels most edgy or scary is often the piece that will most reveal our true niche, our true voice and our true differentiation.
