Trust

from

THE KIND
LEADER

Trust is fundamental
to all a Kind Leader does.

It takes time
to create -
and is an invaluable
asset for everyone.

A leader must work to create
trust with the people around
them.

Kind leaders
also appreciate
that their
people trust
them - and they trust their people too.

And...

When both
sides trust
each other,
there is no
fear.

Kind Leaders
build trust to show they
care and need
the help of their people
too.

What's more...

In a trusting
environment,
everyone can
try out risky
ideas, without fearing
unhelpful
consequences.

They thrive -
as do you.

Trusting
cultures
enable tremendous growth, both
in the business, as well as the people in
them.

Everyone is a winner.

As a leader,
working on
being trusted is one of the most
vital kindnesses
you can offer.

Your people will enjoy working
with you,
towards mutual
success.

And Finally...

Three steps you can take today.

1. Consider how often you follow through with promises

2. Tell someone how much you appreciate their work

3. To individuals, ask what you can do to make a difference
