4. Has it shifted?

More on co-creation…

Right Livelihood - Co-creation

- Manifestation = Cocreation or “Weaving”

Co-creation: You can find co-creation all around you when you start looking for it. When you collaborate with the universe, you create something far more powerful than you could ever create alone. Co-creating means dancing with your environment, with the universe, with Spirit itself.

On Co-creation

- There are pitfalls
- Like any relationship - there is a tendency to go too fast
- Know your co-creation wheel
    - as protection
    - to build strong ropes
- When in doubt…step back a phase
- Peacemaking skills become KEY

Manifestation or Co-creation is accessible to all of us.

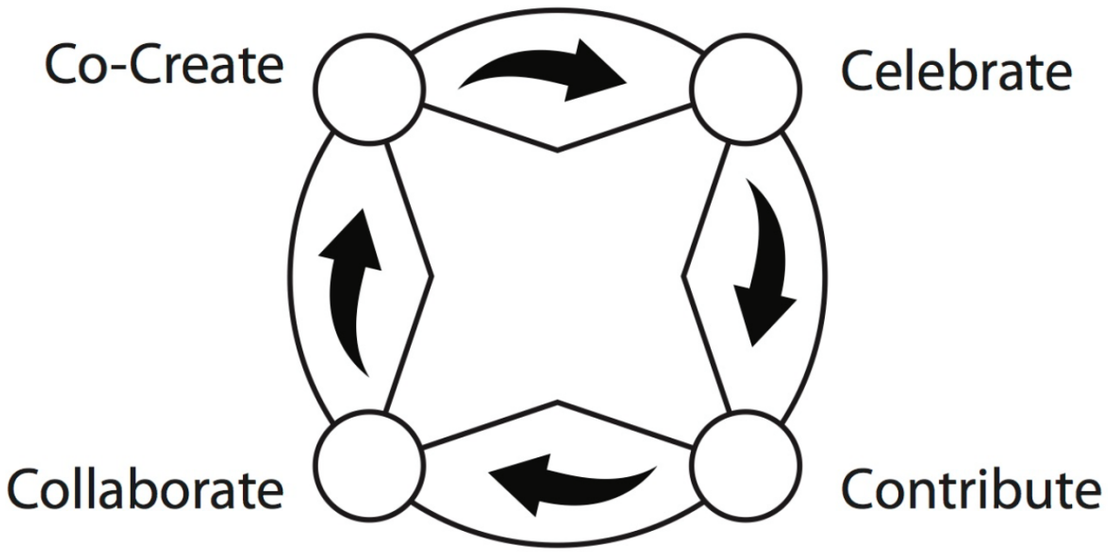

What is “Co-creation”

A Framework for Blessing

Polish Place Honor Repeat

Polish, Place, Honor, Repeat—

Whether you are working crystal grids, altars, or any other practice to weave intention into the material world (or, "the real world," as some would call it), you can use the mantra "Polish, Place, Honor, Repeat (PPHR)" to bring yourself into presence and create holiness from the mundane. As a mystic methodology, PPHR mimics the ceremonial process of creating an altar, but it actually allows you to infuse any object, project, activity, or creation with a sacred intention.
