Tiffany is a southern gal living on the coast of Alabama with her husband, she is happiest with paint on her hands and usually in her hair. She's a free spirit with a love for exploring, she loves to guide others on pushing the limits and understanding their creative voice. Her love of color, texture and her love for recycling fuels her when she shows up in her studio. She has been published in countless magazines and is one of the founders of The Ugly Art Club. She is passionate about empowering other creatives to lean into the unknown and reimagine what is possible.

Tiffany has an online school where she brings guest artists in to create content to inspire others across the globe.
