- All our courses are built on internationally recognized frameworks and standards, such as the Sustainable Development Goals, ISO-standards such as ISO26000, UN Global Compact, United Nations Guiding Principles on Business & Human Rights, ILO, and The Women's Empowerment Principles, among others.
- In addition, all our certification courses are CPD accredited, which means they are reviewed and verified by an external third-party verification service.
- The CPD Standards accreditation operates internationally and meets the CPD requirements and expectations for all professional bodies, regulators, and membership organisations across the globe.
- Professionals who attend our accredited CPD training will receive a CPD Certificate of Attendance, which can be used towards their national CPD requirements.
- To ensure that our courses are inclusive and accessible for everyone, they include videos, audio, and transcripts and can be done at one's own pace.

Our Educational Concept

Picture: The Learning Pyramid

- Our educational concept builds on an active learning process. This means the more active learning, the higher the conversion rate to integrate your learning outcomes.
- We make sure you take your learning all the way.
- We do this by discussing and reflecting in a group coaching format as well as practice doing by applying your newly acquired knowledge on a pilot case.
- This means in parallel helping a company kick-start its sustainability work. A real win-win concept that also contributes to the needed societal transformation.
- At the end of our certification courses, you will become a Certified Change Leader, who has the knowledge of how to transform an organisation while teaching others about sustainability.
- Ultimately it is about making a real impact.
