QUANTUM HEALING: THE ENERGY MEDICINE

Welcome to the Energy Medicine Practitioners Training with James and Debbie Pask.

The Energy Medicine Practitioners Training was developed through a combination of over 27,000 healing sessions conducted by Debbie and James, and it brings together shamanic or indigenous healing tools, combined with modern day energy medicine to create a way of healing that we believe is one of the most powerful healing tools you can use to help assist friends, family, clients and animals and even land.

A Medicine Room is something that was given to you at birth by the creator. It's your birthright to have this medicine place for you to visit where you can get healing when you need it or when you need to heal others you care about. This is an incredible service to be at offer to humanity, especially in these times.

And also, if you're becoming a healer, you can then obviously develop your own healing style utilising the Medicine Room for paying clients as well. It is unique, powerful and cutting-edge.

An Energy Medicine is an etheric or virtual healing space that you create and work within.

Medicine rooms are based on the fact that everything has energy, everything has a spirit, and everything is alive. So, there is the physical world, often referred to as the 'Great Red Road' in Native American Indian tribal law, and the great blue road, which is the metaphysical or spirit world.

Medicine Rooms work with the spirit world or the non-physical world where you tap into the core power of energy and whatever changes are made in the metaphysical (or the blue road), will then correspond to the physical world, the body, the physical self, the mind, the person, the personality.

Working with Energy Medicine (Medicine Room being a key way to access energy medicine), really approaches healing from the core of the person's energy blueprint. It finds whether there's been a stagnation, a block, a trauma, or an issue. It helps to correct that energy field so that the person can come back into harmony with mind, body, and spirit. Because energy and the great blue road, the metaphysical world, isn't bound by time and space, it means that you can be 'LIVE' (face to face) with someone working with energy medicine, or you can do this from a distance (not in person). It doesn't need to be bound by the physical limitations of where you are, which is why Medicine Room healing is able to be done both locally and globally anywhere in the world. It also can go beyond what the physical world can do (diet, nutrition, physical repair) because whatever you can imagine with your intuitive or quantum powers, can be constructed in the virtual Medicine Room.

This level of quantum intelligence can take people's healing to another whole layer where it couldn't be accessed physically. The beautiful thing about energy medicine healing is that Science has now caught up with what shamanic or indigenous people have known for thousands of years, that everything is energetic and vibrating in the space and time dimension. Science is now proving that we are vibrating energies at different levels of density therefore, appearing to be physical, but ultimately, we are all based on energy, sound, and vibration. Knowing that Science proves this, is a real phenomenon. To be able to use this Energy Healing and Medicine Room training means that we have access to a whole new level of medicine (the true meaning of medicine being which is TO HEAL).

Therefore, the Medicine Room is the ultimate form of QUANTUM HEALING.

Quantum is a new more science-based word, but the indigenous cultures have known this type of healing for thousands of years and called it medicine in the past. They clearly understood that everything starts in the invisible world before it comes into the physical. You are looking at their original quantum template, which means that you're actually looking at the person, an animal, or the land and taking their energetic template into the Medicine Room in an energetic perspective with your spirit senses.

If any disease or issue is showing up in the physical world that is starting from that place, when you make changes to that place, that's where healing kicks in. You're going back to the starting point of disease.

When you make changes here, that will then manifest into the physical realm and help the person make changes in the physical world. It's much like when you look at a school environment in the old days, they used to have the overhead projectors and they used to put a screen up on the projector and it would project an image up onto the wall and the school children would write what the teacher put up. What a lot of people are doing, they're trying to make changes on their projection on the wall (which the physical world) as opposed to making changes to the overhead projector (the original energy or spirit). To access this overhead projector (the Spirit or energy source), we simply utilise the Medicine Room. Then you can make changes to the person, the animal, the land, whatever it is you're taking to the Medicine Room on that level, and that's why it's such a powerful healing tool.

What can you do in the Medicine Room?

Well, you can deal with the physical, the mental, the emotional, and the spiritual. The physical is where people present with disease, sickness, injuries, body traumas, etc. The mental is where someone might have blocked goals, addictions, beliefs, old paradigms of whom and what they are, and identity issues. And the emotional could be anxiety, heartache, trauma, depression, or anything that's emotionally affecting an individual. And the spiritual issues might be some sort of “dark night of the soul” situation, feeling lost, falling into the void, or feeling purposeless or that life is meaningless. There's a whole lot of ways that you can work with people with various issues. What's super important when working with the Medicine Room and quantum healing is that because it's non-physical, we can't use our physical senses to do this kind of work.

Seeing, touching, tasting, all those physical sensations don't work in the Medicine Room because it's an etheric quantum healing state. It's non-physical. Therefore, you need to tap into your original senses, your quantum senses, or the intuitive and spiritual psychic senses to speak and communicate with the energy fields and blueprints. This means that your clairvoyance, your clairaudience, your claircognizance, clairsentience, and all those different energetic psychic senses need to be switched on and working, so that you can talk to this field in its own native language.

Let's repeat that. You need to talk to the energy field in its own non-physical native language using intuitive senses.

The Energy Medicine Practitioner Training support you to evolve and develop your gifts so that you can communicate with the quantum field. This includes giving you intuitive activations that awaken your spirit senses (no matter what level you are at) and providing guided shamanic journeys to strengthen your image-making machine (clairvoyance). We teach you strategies for getting into the alpha state and have daily meditations so that as you learn the healing tools, so do you grow your own unique sensory abilities. There is no limit to what you can do in the healing realm provided you can access these extra-sensory gifts.

The beautiful thing about the Medicine Room is that, each person's Medicine Room is truly unique to your own blueprint that you were born with.

The more that you work with it, the more it gets to know you. So, the Medicine Room becomes like a healing friend of yours. It's a place that it knows you. The more that you utilize it and work with it, the stronger it grows. The more you do healing with the Medicine Room, the more powerful it gets so that as you do more and more and more sessions under your belt, the more powerful you become as a healer.

Where does the idea of an Energy Medicine Room Healing come from?

Medicine rooms first came into our awareness through spiritual teachers such as Tom Brown Jnr and Jamie Sams. We have heard many spiritual cultures (mainly Native American Indian culture) talk about energy medicine (healing oneself through energy) and medicine rooms (the container that holds the energy space to heal). As we have been in the energy healing space for over 40 years combined, we have drawn the concept of Medicine Room healing and our years of research and live healing sessions, into a process that can assist you to take your healing or coaching work to a new level.
